The Escaps from Libby. Editor of THE TRIBUNE:

The Scranton Times of this morning, in a sensational article reflects unjustly upon the integrity of E.F. Kingbury general man-ager of the recent "Escape from Libby" entertainment given at the Accierny for the benefit of the Board of Associated Charities. The article in question was un-warranted, and, from my personal knowwarranted, and, from my personal knowledge of the financial management of the entertainment, was wholly uncalled for,
It was only for the purpose of showing to the Times reporter that the rumors concerning Mr. Kingsbury's management of the 'Escape from Libby' were untrus that I exhibited to him the receipts in full, given by Mr. Kingsbury to me. Personally, I have every confidence in Mr. Kingsbury's honesty of purpose, and I am sorry to see him made a target for sensational and unhim made a target for sensational and un-reliable newspaper writers. Very truly, John H. BLACKWOOD.

RECONSIDERS HIS RESIGNATION

George Benore Seriously Injured By a Fall-Meeting of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating Society-Ra- fair is pid Increase in the Membership of St. Mark's Lutheran Church-Social to Be Given By Waco Council.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON Taibune is located at 128 South Main ava-nue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention. 1

A farewell meeting was tendered Rev. D. P. Jones, pastor of the Taber nacle Congregational church, last vening, previous to his departure for Columbus, O. An excellent programme of a musical and literary nature was rendered. A pleasant feature of the evening was a presentation of a handsomely cloth-bound edition of a complete set of twenty-five volumes of THE TRIBUNE'S Encyclopedia Brittannica. The presentation was made by Rev. B. I. Evans, who made a very

Mr Jones responded feelingly, thank-ing the members for their kindness toward him. During the evening the evening a dispatch from Columbus, O, was read saying that they could not re-consider Mr. Jones' resignation, which had been asked for, but Mr. Jones, through the pleading of some of the members, decided to remain. The evening's programme was then contin ned. The meeting was conducted almost wholly in the Welsh language.

Those who made remarks were: Rev. L Evans, Rev. D. C. Hughes, Rev. R. S. Jones, of Providence; Thomas Eynon, Abig Jones, Rev. Hugh Davies, Rev. Peter Roberts, Rev. A. Evans, of Providence; Rev. J. T. Morris, Rev. William Jones, Rev. D. Daniels, Ben-jamin Hughes, Henry P. Davies, D. B. Thomas and Rev. W. S. Jones. A solo was rendered by Llew Herbert and a duet by J. Jones and Miss Fannie Jen-kins, Mrs. H. G. Reese rendered a solo and Llew Herbert again sang. Mr. Jones' reconsideration was a source of comfort to the members of his congregation and friends, as he is held in ligh esteem by his many associates.

Painfully Injured. George Benore, of the firm of Benore Son, lumber dealers, on Scranton street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon by falling on the ice in the lumber yard of the firm. He was assisted into a conveyance and taken to his home on South Main avenue, where Drs. Allen, Reynolds and Saltry attended. The result of the doctors' examination proved that the small bone of the leg, near the foot, was fractured and that the bone of the foot was dislocated. The fractured limb was set, but it will be no doubt several weeks before Mr Benore will again resume his place at his desk.

A social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at the church parsonage tomorrow 'night. There will be a musical programme, and light refreshments will be served. A general invitation is extended to all. A special invitation is extended to young people.

Miss Nellie Knight, of Pittston, spent Sunday at this place. The Pennsylvania Coal company and Erie and Wyoming rathroad companies will pay their employes today. The Dunmore Iron and Steel company turned another huge locomotive out of its shops yesterday. This latest piece of mechanism is of the consolidated type and is one of the largest locomotive in this section and the second of her kind in the world being built with three direct action cylinders. She is a novelty in every detail and has proven a difficult piece of work owing to the intricities which were in volved in adapting the three cytinders to the consolidated mechanism. The whole design was originated with the utmost accuracy as no other locomo tive could be used as a molel. The three cylinder type of locomotive was patented by John B. Smith, president of the Eric and Wyoming Valley railroad, in June, 1880, and since that time three small and two large locomotives have been built and two large locomotives have been built and attached a huge crank and to which the third cylinder is attached. The difference in the working of the two and three cylinders lies in the manner the eccentries are set, being on thirds instead of quarters.

The links, as well as all other parts, are constructed heavier than in ordinary locomotives in order to withstand the extra pressure exerted by the third cylinder. Large elliptic springs assist the engineer in reversing so much weight. The boiler is of the culm burning type, and is a 60-inch of the Wooten patent. The whole af-fair is nandsomely painted and presents a neat, yet herculean appearance as she pulls her large train along with scarcely an effort. The lo-
